SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR FORMATTING SOURCE TEXT FILES TO BE IMPORTED INTO A SPREADSHEET FILE

ABSTRACT

5   A computer implemented system and method for providing importation of a source text file into a spreadsheet file. A file format profile manager dynamically links a file format profile to the source text file, such that the formatting process performed after the importation operation is

10   dynamically tailored to the source text file. A file format profile editor allows a user to formally describe the formatting actions to be performed for a given file format profile. A spreadsheet file user profile maintains location links between the imported source text files and their 15   location within the spreadsheet file.